However, the insurance mentioned above may not provide sufficient coverage. If terminating the insurance contract and enrolling anew without waiting for the maturity date, there may be cases in which coverage and insurance premiums change, and where services are no longer available.

As a result, there may be cases in which the coverage content and so on following renewal is changed, or in which renewal is not possible.

[Post-contract renewal insurance fee]

The insurance fee for each product is calculated as of the renewal date in accordance to the current renewed insurance fee percentages. Therefore, the product's post-renewal insurance fee is different from the pre-renewal insurance fee.

[Verification of unpaid insurance]

Be it within Japan or abroad, legally responsibility is to be held and thus reparations are to be paid out in such instances, including damage or injury caused to another party and/or their property (which comprises digital property i.e. information stored on appliances)*1, as outlined below:

- Accidents met with unexpectedly by insured students in their everyday lives
- * Unexpected accidents which occur in insured students' day-to-day lives, where said students' legal guardian(s) - including those having otherwise been legally designated as their supervisor and/or as their representative supervisor - have been previously made to bear legal responsibility, are also included.
- Unexpected accidents arising from the ownership, usage or management of a housing used by the insured student for his/her own residency
- * The student is responsible for any accidental damage caused by the ownership, usage, or management of the housing he or she uses for residence, personal liability insurance includes cases in which the student's parent, other legal custodian or other person responsible for legal supervision and vicarious supervision of the student is liable (for vicarious supervisors, only accidents related to the student himself/herself are covered).
- ▶ The amount to be paid out for one accident*2 will be limited to the maximum value stated in your insurance contract.
- * In principle, settlements are to be negotiated by Tokio Marine only for those accidents having occurred in Japan (cases where a lawsuit has been filed in a court outside Japan are an exception).
- * Should the other party fail to agree to enter directly into negotiations with Tokio Marine, or should the insured party not be liable for damages, then please note that negotiations with the other party will not be possible.
- * Should any insurance and/or mutual aid money be paid out by another insurance policy and/or mutual aid contract, the amount of insurance money to be paid out by Tokio Marine may decrease.
- * In addition to those insurance benefits listed above, there are cases where various insurance amounts are to be paid to cover necessary expenditures incurred at the time of the accident.
- * If the insured person or their family have other insurance policies with similar coverage, this coverage may well overlap and thus be duplicated. Please be sure to check your coverage details thoroughly before enrolling.

*1 Property (consigned goods) entrusted in Japan by the covered person is damaged or stolen while it is stored in a home or temporarily managed outside the home in Japan or overseas. Even if you are legally liable for damages to a person who has a legitimate right to such property, the insurance will pay the amount of damage (amount of liability for damages).
