Synchronous classes, where teachers and students coincide in time and develop the tasks of oral and written expression, comprehension and interaction, specific to each level.

The course programme by level is available to coordinators and students once the groups have been organised by level. The didactic materials used are aimed at combining audiovisual presentations by the teacher and the students, developing different dynamics of individual, small group and group-class work. Classes will combine communicative and reflective practice.

We work with the Difusión publishing house and its virtual campus (<https://campus.difusion.com/>). We also use materials from other publishers of Spanish as a foreign language and our own audiovisual material produced/adapted by the CI-USC team of teachers.

In this course, emphasis is placed on the personalised monitoring of students through the assignment of a teacher-tutor, individual tutorials are planned and continuous advice is given throughout the process, from taking the level test to obtaining diplomas and final credits.
