Dear Atsuko and Andrew,

I wanted to forward this message I received yesterday from one of the BA course professors. The professor didn't have to send this message as she's so busy at this time, so it means a lot that she took the time to do so. Please see below for her message. The 5 students taking her course are MM, HN, SO, EK, and NH. We're grateful that these young ladies have made such a great impression on this professor -- representing the ELI and Kansai University so well. I just wanted to share with you this positive news!

Happiness,

As you know, this semester I have had five English Language Institute students in my class through your program. They haven't yet taken the final exam, so I can't yet give you their final grades in the course. But overall they have been excellent students, and I have thoroughly enjoyed having them in class. All five of their grades are currently in the B to A- range, so they have been performing at least as well, and better than many of the native English speaking, U students. I'll provide specific final grades for each student when I have them calculated. But I'd love to have some more of your students in my class in the future -- the class is Parenting Across Cultures, so it is really beneficial to have students from another culture in the class -- it really enhanced the discussion.

Thank you,
