Japanese Language and Culture Program Japanese Language and Culture Course (JLC)

The purpose of JLC is to provide instruction in the Japanese language and Japanese culture to international students who are enrolled in or have graduated from universities and graduate schools outside of Japan. The course consists of 'Japanese Language' 'Global Liberal Arts Subjects' taught in Japanese, and 'Japan Studies' 'Global Frontier Classes' 'Professional Education of the law faculty' taught in English. Period of study is either one semester (half a year) or two semesters (one year). The JLC employs the semester system so that students can start the course either in the Spring (April - September) or the Fall Semester (September - March next year).

Characteristics

● Various Levels of Japanese Language
JLC offers 7 levels of Japanese language from the beginner to advanced level so that students are able to take classes in accordance with their linguistic ability (level of Japanese proficiency).

● Japanology Classes in English
As well as "Japanese Language" classes, varieties of "Japan Studies" classes are taught in English at JLC. Students are able to look at Japan from various perspectives and enhance knowledge of history, culture, literature, society, politics, science, and technology.

● "Global Frontier Classes" in English
Taught entirely in English, students will cultivate a high level of communication competency through these classes. Students will also develop capabilities for problem-solving needed in global business, and the attributes expected in internationally minded individuals.

● Various Activities
Students enrolled in the JLC can participate in varieties of activities with exchange students and Japanese students which give the JLC students great opportunities to learn Japanese culture and Japan studies.

● Kansai University Community
Students enrolled in the JLC will be immersed in school life as a member of the Kansai University community. Each student will be issued with student ID to use facilities at Kansai University such as the library and IT Center.
